So you want to know how to visit us?
Well it couldn't be simpler! Just decide which station you would like to use, and follow the directions.

From the Angel tube...

If you can easily get on to the Northern Line, then Angel is the best station for you. When you come out of the station, take a left so you're kind of going back on yourself. Wait patiently at the crossings before going straight over and downhill.

After going past the traditional looking butchers, take the next right onto Rosebery Avenue. Have a look to see what's playing at Sadler's Wells theatre, if dance is your thing. Keep walking until you chance upon Tysoe Street, which is on the left-hand side of the road where La Porchetta (a superior Pizza Express) is located.

Walk down Tysoe Street and take the first right. Now you're on Exmouth Market! If you're early for our meeting, here's an opportunity to pass a little time – it's a great mix of shops and eateries.

Just remember that we're down the alley between Starbuck's and Sweet. We are located in a building at the end of this alley, just look for the black iron gates on the right.

From Farringdon Station...

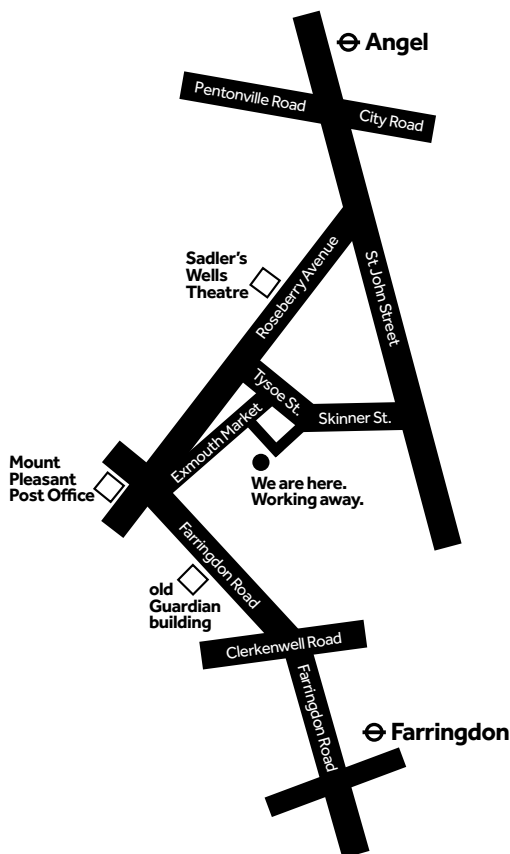

If the Circle, Metropolitan, Hammersmith & City lines or Thameslink train are your preferred choices, then Farringdon station is the one for you. When you walk out of the station, take a right and then a right again at Farringdon Road. This road might seem quite long, but stick with it.

When you get to a crossroads, you should see Yo! Sushi on the left hand corner. Do you see it? Good. Keep going straight over and head up the steady incline. On your left you might be interested to look at the old Guardian offices. You might not.

At the brow of the hill, take a right onto Exmouth Market, by the Dollar bar (good cocktails downstairs). You may see one of us buying a bite to eat from one of the many sandwich shops. Keep going, past the French pancake maker, the lauded Moro restaurant, the genuine pie & mash shop and the three-legged cat (if he's around), and take a right once you get to Starbuck's. You'll find us at the end of the alley in the tall building with the black gates. Welcome!

From King's Cross Station...

It's probably best to get a cab; it's a whole lot easier, it's a whole lot quicker, and it's a pretty reasonable price too! Taxi!
